Mission: UNED strives to create the best public higher education service based on distance learning.

The biggest university: With more than 205,000 students, UNED has the largest student body in Spain and is one of the largest universities in Europe.

Innovation: UNED is the leader in the implementation of cutting-edge technologies applied to learning, with the most comprehensive offer of virtual courses in Spain.

Extensive experience and social vocation: Since 1972, UNED has sought to translate into action the principle of equal opportunity in the access to higher education through a methodology based on the principles of distance learning and focused on the needs of the student.
• Interest in responding to the demand for training groups with special needs

• Established in all the Spanish Autonomous Communities in the form of 61 Associated Centers and more than 100 extensions and classrooms, where tutoring takes place and also the venues for the proctoring of in-person exams.

• Present in 13 countries in Europe (Germany, Belgium, France, United Kingdom, Switzerland, Italia), America (United States, Argentina, Peru, Mexico, Brazil, Venezuela) and Africa (Equatorial Guinea).

• Academic teaching staff of more than 1,400 in 9 Faculties, 2 Technical Colleges and the University Access Course (CAD) at UNED Headquarters. And more than 7,000 Professor-Tutors spread across the Associated Centers.
Where is UNED?

The UNED campus is spread across Faculties, Schools, and Centers in Madrid and the extensive network of Associated Centers throughout Spain and abroad.

Although UNED is designed so that studying can be done when and where the student deems appropriate, significant on-site support is available to students at the 61 Associated Centers and the network of more than of 100 university lecture halls distributed throughout Spain’s Autonomous Communities. In addition, there are 14 centers (and 2 exam points) in 13 countries in Europe, America and Africa.

The Associated Centers are units of UNED’s academic structure which serve as support for its educational system.

Every UNED student must be attached to an Associated Center.

Students can opt for the center they find most convenient, based on their place of residence or any other circumstance.

The attachment is formalized upon completion of the registration forms.

The Associated Center is the regular channel through which face-to-face interaction between the University and the student takes place.
Associated Centers

The Center offers:

- On-site tutoring
- Organizes the holding of examinations
- Provides information on those aspects pertaining to the student’s university activity.
- Support to students such as a library, laboratories and computer rooms, as well as bookstores to purchase the recommended course preparation materials, including assessments for distance learning.

Distance Education System

- UNED features the most complete and advanced methodology for distance learning, putting a whole range of measures and human resources at the disposal of students to enable autonomous learning tailored to their needs and schedules.
- Based on the use of active methodologies in which students are the protagonist of their own learning, this system is the underlying concept of the European Higher Education Area (EHEA) for the training of professionals capable of taking up the challenges of the knowledge society.
- UNED provides a distance learning modality characterized by the use of a specific didactic methodology which combines the use of: (1) print, (2) audiovisual media and (3) new technologies, especially virtual learning communities.
- There are also various systems of communication between professors and students as well as on-site assistance to students from professor-tutors at the Centers

ITEMS OF METHODOLOGY - Human Resources

Teaching teams
In faculties, teaching teams are responsible for the assessment of learning and the preparation of programs and teaching materials. The student receives support from professors via online, e-mail, telephone, or videoconference.

Tutors in the Associated Centers and virtual tutors
Should they wish, students can attend tutorials at the Associated Centers, given by specialized tutors. Associated Centers also facilitate the formation of study and working groups of students.

Administrative and Service Personnel
More than 1,400 public employees make the operation of the University possible, and provide the necessary support for teaching and research staff to carry out their work under optimal conditions.

Audio-visual Media
Radio, educational TV and the UNED Channel (on-line radio and TV – www.canalun.ed.com)

Virtual Community (Campus UNED-e)
UNED students are integrated into a broader virtual community where they have access to various on-line resources that respond to their needs (e.g. virtual courses, virtual study communities and virtual library, and administrative departments).
Each course has its own virtual domain with activities, supplementary materials, self-assessment, and chats and forums, allowing students to communicate with teaching staff, tutors, and among them.
All these services are directed towards the creation of virtual learning communities.
